

Bug Out Bag 101: Your Guide to Packing a 72-Hour Disaster Survival Kit

Disasters rarely occur when it is convenient for us. Hurricanes can lead to the emptying of store shelves, tornadoes can vacuum up small towns leaving no supply of food or water, and history has repeatedly shown how humanity can destroy itself on a whim leaving the unprepared to suffer. Though no one can in good conscience give you a magic pill to ensure you and your family's survival what we can do is greatly increase your chances of surviving any disaster scenario. Inside we will cover: Conditioning your body to withstand the rigors of bugging out during a disaster. Maximizing the amount of food and water you are carrying & minimize space and weight taken up. Why choosing certain types of bags and clothing could be the difference between life and death and more! Congratulations on taking your first steps to self reliance.
