

Alpha Decisions: Gay Military Erotica

Steven, a soldier, thinks about his life and how he ended up in the military, where he found someone special; but, as time passes, he questions whether or not he still loves his boyfriend, when the relationship continues to be incredibly dull. Always the same conversations, the same drink, even the sex was dull and always involved the same actions. Steven then ponders whether or not to stay with his boyfriend, and, in turn, begins to spend more time with Dieter, a man he met while on an assignment. In doing this, he notices that even the cold beer that seemed boring to him now tuned into an exciting moment. There, his emotions go through a roller coaster that has him facing death itself, as he tries to decide whether to stay on the known path, or travel the new and exciting one. This decision will take him to depths of his mind that he never thought he would see, and his final choice introduces him to a world of unexpected pleasures.
