

My Abnormal Life

Fifteen-year-old Rose Graham has never been to school. She's never had a date. She certainly never knew she was gorgeous. She's been too busy shoplifting food, keeping Social Services off her family's case, and taking care of her little sister. Now, plunged into a foster family in affluent Linden Falls, she's supposed to act normal. But high school parties, first kisses, and writing for the school newspaper just seem trivial when all Rose wants is to get her family back together. At least she has the Altives computer game to help her cope. And Brian Johnson's broad shoulders to drive her crazy . . .
