

The All Red Line, 1903: The Annals and Aims of the Pacific Cable Project (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from The All Red Line, 1903: The Annals and Aims of the Pacific Cable Project (Sir Henry Parks) The crimson thread of kinship. (Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain) Our great ideal is unity of the Empire. In the words of a Canadian poet Unite the Empire - make it stand compact Shoulder to shoulder let its members feel The touch of British brotherhood; and act As one great nation - strong and true as steel. (Right Hon. Sir Edmund Barton) Congratulations on the completion of the Pacific Cable. I trust that the connection, and with it the community of feeling and interest between the sister Dominions may strengthen them and the whole Empire. (Right Hon. R. J. Seddon) New Zealand extends hearty congratulations to Canada on completion of Pacific Cable, forming strong link in chain of communication through all our great Empire, bringing dominions over the seas into closer contact. (Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier) Canada fully reciprocates the sentiments conveyed in your message over the newly completed Pacific Cable with the sincere hope that the step may be soon followed by others still more important in the same line ... It should be hailed with satisfaction throughout the Empire. (Sir William Mulock) Rejoice with you in completion of the Pacific Cable, an important link of Empire and trust the red line may be continually extended until it connects the mother country with all parts of the Dominions beyond the seas. (Sir Joseph Ward) Glad to hear of Sir William Mulock's advocacy of state-owned cables within the Empire. That is what we, one and all, should strenuously fight for.
