

The Lost Prince

The Lost Prince was published in 1915. The Lost Prince features Marco Loristan, his father Stefan and his friend, a street urchin named The Rat. Marcos father is working to overthrow the cruel dictatorship in the kingdom of Samavia. Marco and his father Stefan come to London where Marco becomes friends with The Rat. Stefan, realizing that two boys are less likely to be noticed, entrusts them with a secret mission to travel across Europe giving the secret sign: The Lamp is lighted, to help bring about a revolution and restore the rightful king. Frances Hodgson Burnett was an English-American playwright and author. She is best known for her childrens stories, in particular The Secret Garden, A Little Princess, and Little Lord Fauntleroy. Following the death of her mother in 1872, eighteen-year-old Frances found herself the head of a family of four younger siblings. She turned to writing to support them all. Her main writing talent was combining realistic detail of working-class life with a romantic plot. In her later years she maintained her summer home on Long Island and a winter home in Bermuda.
